

ISBN 978-81-88

PROCEEDINGS OF THE KANAIYAKUMARI ACADEMY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

(A Post Doctoral Honorary Papers of KAAS National Seminar)

COLLECTED PAPERS:
Second International Conference of KAAS

Estd. 1996

Kanaiyakumari Academy of
Arts and Sciences (KAAS)
Tegarkovil - 629 561, Tamil Nadu,
South India

VOLUME - II
SOCIAL SCIENCE

Dr. K M Sridhakaran
Assistant Professor, VSP College, Kalpanchirasiguda
Atangh Research School, MG University

Abstract

Consequences arising as a resultant of Covid-19 are not one affecting the binary also, it also relates to the whole gender minorities and the community, comprising of living beings. In fact, there is no shadow of doubt that the consequences relating to Covid-19 are an increasing loss as gender minorities are concerned owing to the fact of being underprivileged. When the world with sufficient facilities and amenities to rise out a living - themselves find it hard to meet their result of the onset of Covid-19 how can the transgender community thrown out of their lives, to protect them to find the ways and means of livelihood. A large section of transgender owners have been successful enough in establishing their own identities and thereby seek ways and means. In this way, a large number of transgender people had established themselves in adverse situation by way of establishing micro small and medium enterprises. Some of them had opted for identity by way of small establishments, like the Radhakrishna in the state of Kerala, and surely the path that they underwent was not a bed of roses but full thorns. Several MSME units, which have started by transgender people are living testimonies to the hard toil and the obstacles have undergone which culminated in setting up the unit. Loans from financial institutions, long term and heavy interests as well as the physical effort undertaken by them in the process are the difficulties undergone in this path. Juice shops, boutiques, footwear shops, etc. are but a few of the MSME units so established. The onset of Covid-19 has set in adverse effects to not only the economy but the economic panorama of the world as a whole has being victims of a hitherto not still. While our mind's eye is able to see these adverse effects on the economic panorama (the juice shops, boutiques etc. seem bleak, and the human mind is unable to answer the question would be the future of these establishments and the transgender owners who have taken head a day out for the successful establishment of their enterprise. This research work is aimed at the future of the transgender entrepreneurs.

Key Words: MSME, Gender Minority, Political Economy of the Transgender, Covid-19, Political

Democracy as a mandate to rule ourselves and seems to be beneficial to all sections of all. In cutting across the differences, but in practice, some sections are perpetually been alienated from called rights and privileges. Among them women and marginalized sections right from the begin being set aside in the periphery and always lives in the outskirts of the mainstream society or, being constitute the most underprivileged and marginalized section of the population, who are alienated and are excluded in the developmental process. In accordance with the estimates formulated in demographic transition, the population classified under OTHER or "third gender" has been increasing. "Third genders" have recently identified in the Indian census of 2011. Transgender are located in states of Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh and Odisha and they are concentrated in the states of Gujarat and Kerala respectively. Irrespective of their wide range of population, they considered in the developmental aspect of the nation. They live in the outskirts of the mainstream, doing all unrecognized or underprivileged jobs. As the transgender community in the state of Kerala, concerned, financial independence, educational background as well as accomplishments is a key-

