DECLARATION

This is to certify that I, Prof. Dr. Sudhakaran K M the Principal of Sree Sankara Vidyapeetom College, located at Valayanchirangara, hereby provides an official declaration regarding the number of projects undertaken in the domain of local history.

I affirm that our institution, under my leadership, has diligently organized and supervised a total of 93 projects dedicated to the exploration, documentation, and preservation of various facets of our local history. These projects covered a wide array of local historical themes and topics, such as ethnography, environment, social history, places and gender showcasing the commitment of our institution to comprehensively understanding and promoting the rich heritage of our locality.

The involvement of students fostered interdisciplinary collaboration, offering them a unique opportunity to delve into the historical narratives of our community. The success of these projects is attributed to the dedicated guidance and mentorship provided by our esteemed faculty members.

HERITAGE MUSEUM

The Heritage museum serves as a repository of artifacts and historical remnants, preserving the rich cultural heritage of the locality and offering valuable insights into the past. Spread over a dedicated area of approximately 200 square meters, the museum houses a diverse collection of artifacts from various historical periods. One notable feature of the museum is the significant collection of coins that spans different eras, providing a glimpse into the monetary systems and economic structures of the past. Additionally, the museum showcases a range of articles that shed light on the social, cultural, and political facets of Kerala's history.

CULTURAL CANVASES: ETHNIC ELEGANCE

In a celebration of artistry and cultural richness, The History department is set to undergo a captivating transformation with the introduction of Warli painting on its walls. This initiative not only adds vibrant splashes of color but also embraces the essence of tradition, weaving a tale of cultural heritage within our academic spaces.

Warli art, originating from the tribal communities of Maharashtra, holds a unique charm with its simplistic yet profound depictions of rural life, rituals, and nature. The canvas of the department walls now becomes a stage for this age-old art form, inviting everyone to immerse themselves in the stories and
