Programme Report in Detail

The "Being Professional" workshop, designed as a soft skill enhancement program for the students of Sree Sankara Vidyapeetom College, Valayanchirangara on 3rd November

2020 through google meet platform. Mr. Nikhil N K, Assistant Professor at Rajagiri College of Social Sciences served as the resource person for the programme. 98 students from various departments participated in the workshop. The core objectives of the workshop were thoughtfully structured to provide participants with a holistic understanding of professionalism and the essential skills necessary for thriving in their future careers:

- The workshop aimed to instil in students a profound understanding of professionalism and its far-reaching implications across diverse fields.
- The program sought to elevate students' verbal and non-verbal communication skills and foster the art of active listening.

The session commenced with a comprehensive exploration of the elusive concept of professionalism. It delved into the diverse facets of professionalism and illustrated its relevance across various domains. Participants actively engaged in discussions and activities aimed at identifying unprofessional behaviour and its consequences. The communication segment emphasized the importance of effective verbal and non-verbal communication. Through engaging activities and role-playing scenarios, participants practiced active listening and honed their skills in building meaningful interpersonal relationships. Integral to the workshop's effectiveness were a myriad of interactive activities that allowed students to apply their newfound knowledge in a practical setting.

The "Being Professional" workshop produced tangible and meaningful outcomes, evidencing its effectiveness. The participants demonstrated a heightened awareness of the significance of professionalism, both in theory and practice. The workshop activities also led to demonstrable improvements in communication and interpersonal skills, as evident in enriched group discussions and role-playing.

In conclusion, the "Being Professional" workshop emerged as an unequivocal success, providing college students with invaluable skills to navigate the complexities of the professional world. The overwhelming positive feedback and noticeable skill enhancements among participants underscore the workshop's significance. By persistently fostering and expanding this program, we can contribute meaningfully to the future successes of aspiring professionals across diverse fields.
