PROGRAMME REPORT

On August 30, 2022, a highly insightful workshop titled "Soft Skill for Science Learners" was conducted in collaboration with the Departments of Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics at the [Your College Name]. This event, under the aegis of the IQAC and PTA, was aimed at enhancing the soft skills of science students to complement their technical expertise. Dr. Bindu K R played a pivotal role as the coordinator of this enriching programme.

Objective and Significance:

The workshop was designed with the specific objective of equipping science learners with essential soft skills that are vital for their academic performance, research capabilities, and future career prospects. Acknowledging the critical role of soft skills in the scientific arena, this workshop provided practical tools and techniques for students to develop and effectively apply these skills. Such training is crucial for science students, who often find themselves in environments requiring teamwork, collaboration, and clear communication of complex ideas.

Resource Person and Conduct:

The workshop was led by Dr. Prema A.K., Coordinator at the IGNOU Regional Centre Campus, Kochi. With her vast experience and expertise, Dr. Prema adeptly addressed various facets of soft skills crucial for scientific endeavors. The workshop was attended by 50 students, who gained valuable insights into the nuances of effective communication, teamwork, and professional conduct in the scientific community.

Sessions and Learning Outcomes:

The focus of the workshop was on enhancing communication skills, enabling students to articulate complex scientific ideas clearly, present research findings effectively, and collaborate efficiently with peers and experts. The interactive sessions provided hands-on experience in public speaking, teamwork, problem-solving, and leadership. The workshop also touched upon the importance of emotional intelligence, adaptability, and ethical conduct in professional settings. These aspects are often overlooked in traditional science education but are vital for the holistic development of future scientists and researchers.

Outcome and Benefits:

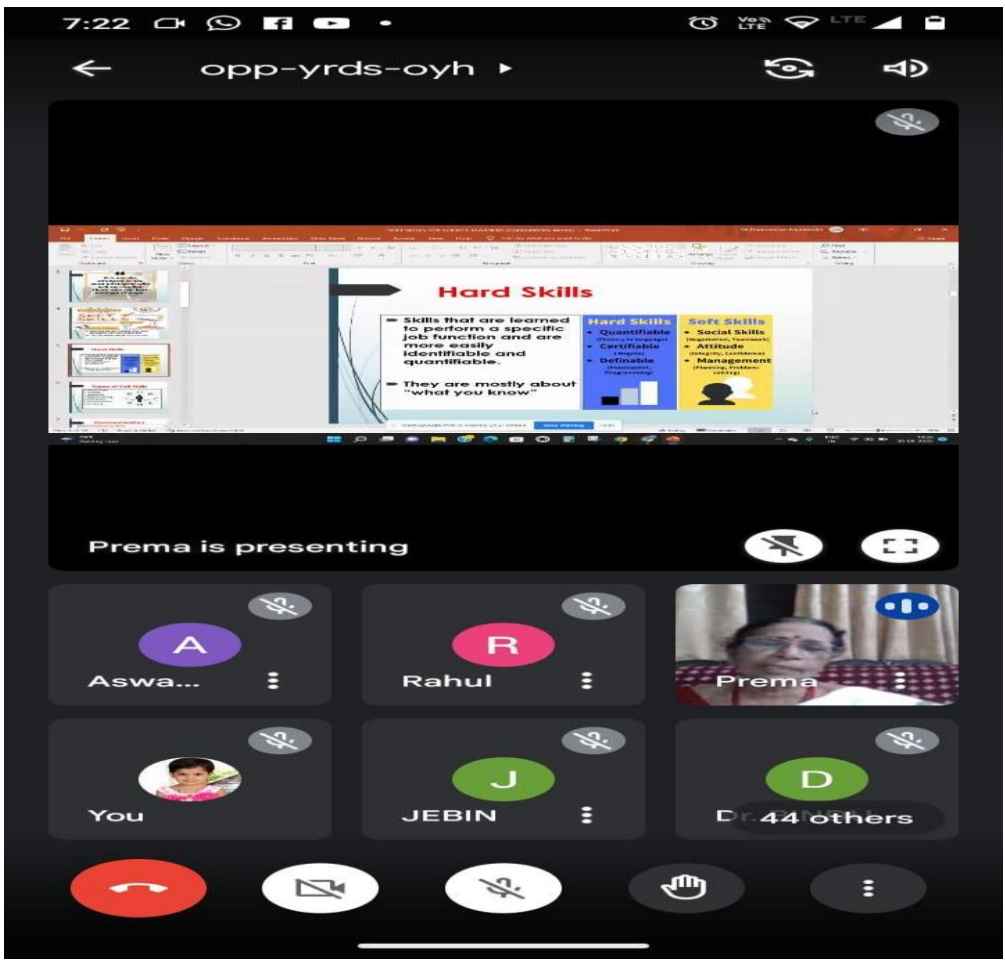

The feedback from the participants was overwhelmingly positive. Students reported a heightened awareness of the importance of soft skills in their field and felt better equipped to apply these skills in academic and professional settings. The workshop successfully achieved its aim of empowering science students with a well-rounded skill set, ensuring their success not just in academic pursuits but also in their future roles as competent professionals in the scientific community.

Conclusion:

The "Soft Skill for Science Learners" workshop stands as a testament to the importance of a balanced skill set that blends technical knowledge with interpersonal and professional skills. Such initiatives are vital in preparing science students for the multifaceted challenges of the modern scientific landscape, making them more effective and adaptable professionals.
